Dedication: William M. Mauney

William M. Mauney, Associate Professor of Economics and currently acting Chairman of the Economics/Political Science department, is a man who devotes himself to Lenoir-Rhyne and to the students.

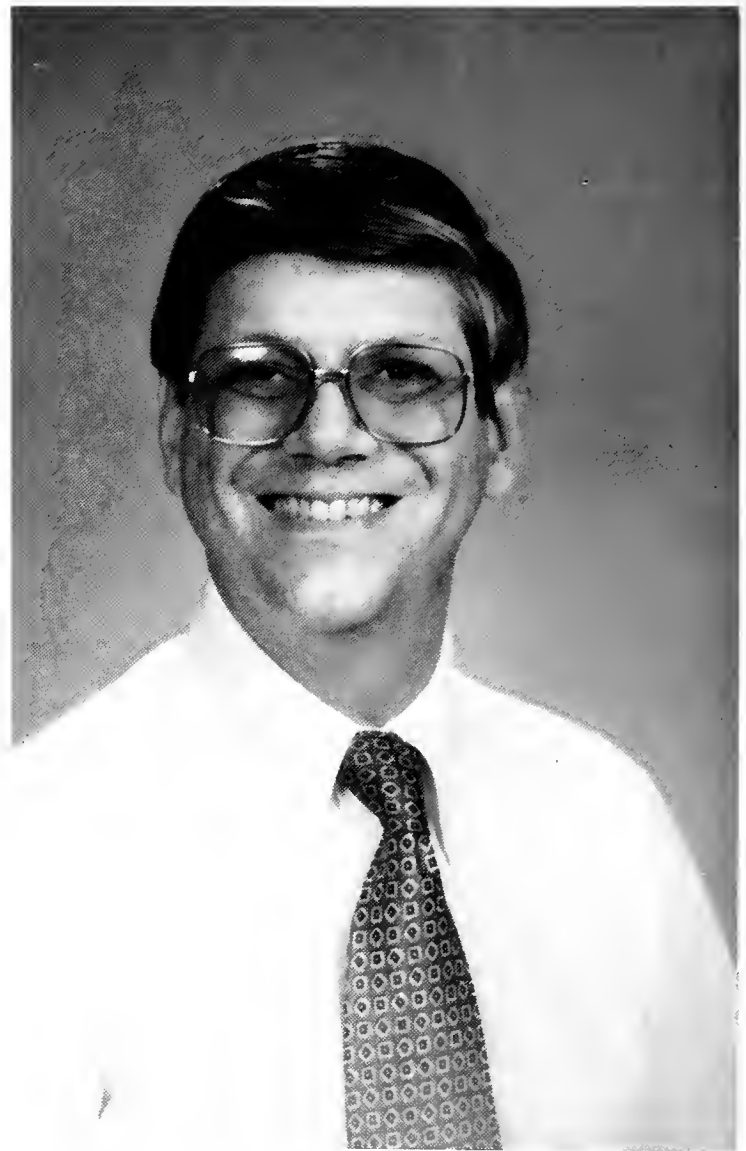

A native of Hickory, Professor Mauney received his Bachelor Degree in Economics from Lenoir-Rhyne. He then proceeded to earn his Masters in Economics and Business from Appalachian State University. In 1967, Professor Mauney returned to Lenoir-Rhyne as Instructor of Economics. In 1971 he was promoted to Assistant Professor, and in 1979 he gained Associate Professor status.

Professor Mauney is currently the Director of the Broyhill Institute. He is a member of Pi Kappa Delta (forensics), Mu Sigma Epsilon (scholarship), Pi Sigma Alpha (Political Science) and Omicron Delta Epsilon (economics) fraternities. He is a member of both the Southern Economic Association and the American Economic Association. In addition, Professor Mauney teaches a full load of classes, ranging from Principles of Economics to Money and Banking (sometimes referred to by students as "Mauney" and Banking).

When asked why he chooses to teach at Lenoir-Rhyne rather than apply his knowledge to the field of economics, Professor Mauney replies that he prefers working with students and in a college atmosphere.

Professor Mauney is well-liked. Students know that they are free to stop by and chat or to come by his office whenever they are having problems with a class. The students feel that Professor Mauney makes economics more understandable and that he really cares about them, both as students and as people.

His hard work and dedication has not gone unnoticed. It is with great pleasure that the Senior class dedicates the 1987-88 Hacawa to Professor William Mauney.

Campus Life

Summertime finds Lenoir-Rhyne at work and at play both at home and abroad. Students take advantage of the opportunity to go aboard each summer. Many choose to study at a foreign university for which they receive credit through the Foreign Language Department. The summer of 1987 found students studying in various European cities such as Paris, Nice and Vienna. Studies abroad are highly encouraged for language majors — not simply to enhance the ability to speak fluently, but also to gain insight into a different culture.

On the lighter side, many choose to vacation in Europe traveling from country to country. This summer a tour was organized and headed by Professor Thom Thies that visited various cities throughout Europe. Quite a few students took advantage of the chance to see Europe in a short period of time.

Graduation 1987

Shirley Taylor proudly moves from student to alumni status.

We have shared so many memories over the past years. Graduation is a time of happiness as well as sadness. In a way, we have become a family. Some of us will never see each other again, but we will always have the memories of laughter, tears, and especially the friendships made at Lenoir-Rhyne. We now realize how quickly this time together goes by and, with the help of each other, we have become stronger through these years. As we reach graduation, we must look ahead to the future as we begin a new life, never forgetting, but always cherishing, the years of growing at Lenoir-Rhyne.

Cass Ballanger addresses the graduating class of 1987 with a few words of advice.

A hard-earned degree brings a smile to every face during graduation.

Graduation has been a long-awaited moment for Mike Howard and Doug Sheppard.

The 1987 Prologue Experience

Moving In

When a freshman arrives on the Lenoir-Rhyne campus he is traditionally unaware of what is going on. Prologue just seems like a reason for getting everyone to school just a little earlier.

For the freshman class every year, Prologue is a means of making those first college steps a little easier. The week of Prologue is a kind of preview to the coming attraction: the real college experience.

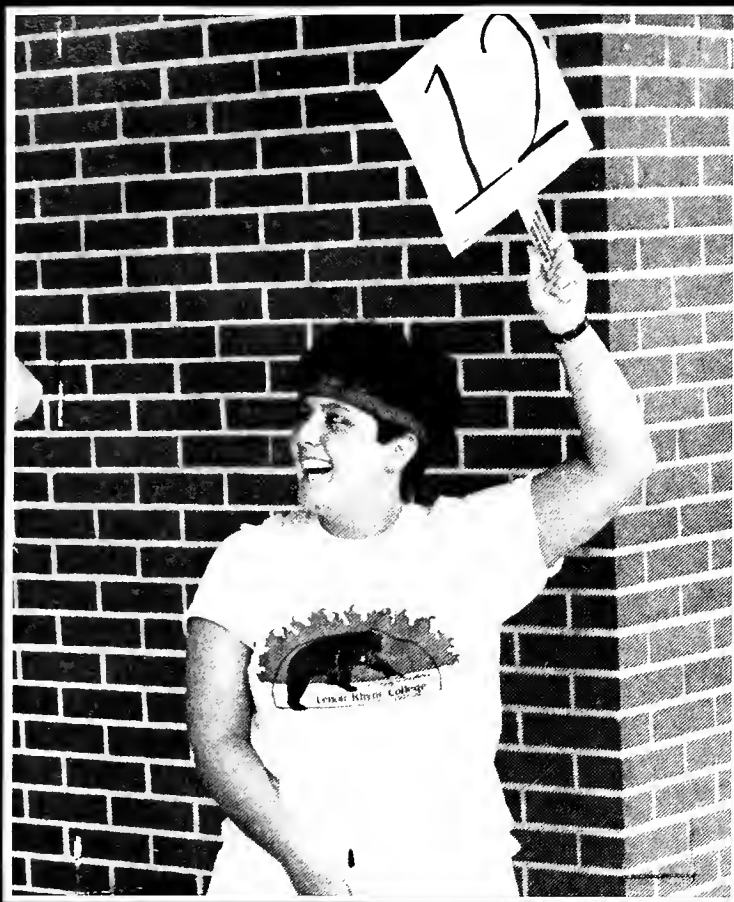

This year's Prologue was a week filled with both planned and unplanned activities primarily aimed at making the freshmen feel more at home. Prologue was planned and organized by students for students. The coordinators were Ann Merck and Mike Guelzow. They were assisted by thirty-two Prologue team leaders; students ranging from sophomores to seniors who wanted to join in on the "Prologue Experience."

From Saturday, August 22, until Wednesday, the day before classes, the freshman class was divided into thirty-two Prologue teams — groups ranging from ten to eighteen people — and they participated in various activities aimed at familiarizing them with the campus.

Play Makin' With Playmakers

Children's Theater

The Lenoir-Rhyne Playmakers opened their season with East of the Sun, West of the Moon, a romance for children written by James M. Ragland. The play is based on an old Norwegian folktale. The story is about a poor family that gives up their youngest daughter for a year. This serves two purposes: to make the poor family wealthy and to lift the curse from the prince that makes him the white bear. Ingrid and Bo run into obstacles along the way and the outcome appears gloomy. In the end, the problems are solved and everything comes out roses, or, better yet, wishes. Playmakers attended the North Carolina Theatre Competition in Greensboro and have been invited to perform at the Southeastern Theatre Competition in Atlanta, Georgia.

Ingrid (Laura Wolf) learns that wishing isn't complicated — all you have to do is ring the bell, wish, command and all your dreams will come true.

Kelly Wells, Susan Stobbs, and Mary Beth Swearingen enjoy East of the Sun, West of the Moon: A Children's Romance.

Charles Fite and Rip Robbins sell cotton candy, popcorn and Kool-Aide for their required hours in theater.

Ingrid (Laura Wolf) is consoled on the first day of Spring by her painting teacher (Robert Sassi), her coach (John Stafford), her dancing teacher ( Andy Getz), and her singing teacher (Juanita Mecham)

Parent's Weekend At LRC

The phone calls home dwindle and the homesickness fades but the ties to Mom and Dad remain steadfast. Parent's Weekend brings together the two worlds of the student. Each Fall, Mom and Dad have the chance to return to their college days for one brief weekend.

For the student, it is an opportunity to show Mom and Dad what life at L-R is like (and an excuse to clean up the room before they arrive)! For Mom and Dad, it is an opportunity to meet friends, professors and visit the campus. Everyone welcomes a familiar face from home.

Julia Bramble introduces her parents to professor Thies.

Carl Hearn joins the Stirewalt family for an afternoon on the soccer field.

Parent's weekend is an opportunity for parents to meet the faculty and staff at L-R.

Russian Dance Company Marches Through L-R

A Different Beat

A Soviet invasion took place in the fall when Tziganka, Britain's only authentic Russian Gypsy company, performed at Lenoir Rhyne. Stepping to a different beat, these dancers brought Russian music and dance to the American stage. The entertainers have produced several albums and members of the ensemble are considered by some to be the finest performers of Russian music outside of the Soviet Union.

Rufus Harley Plays To A Different Tune

Assembling a hot air balloon (right) takes quite a few hands. The final result (below) is spectacular.

Up . . . Up . . . And Away!

A Kaleidoscope Of Colors

Imagine a huge multicolored canvas spread out across the quad. When filled with helium, it transforms into a means of transportation. During the Fall semester, Jerry Shaw, Cromer Center Director, had a brief balloon display at Lenoir-Rhyne to promote the Statesville Balloon Festival. In addition to the splash of color it added to the campus, everyone had the opportunity to see, firsthand, a hot air balloon assembled from beginning to end.

In Tune

Rufus Harley is the world's first and only jazz bagpipe player. He puts an end to any belief that the bagpipe is just an instrument of the Scottish Highlands. Rufus brought his unique talents to Lenoir-Rhyne during Parent's Weekend this past Fall Semester.

A captive audience enjoys listening to Rufus in the Bear's Lair as he demonstrates his own style of jazz.

Follow Me . . . .

The 1987 Leadership Retreat started off with a lot of excitement and led to a wonderful weekend. The group of about seventy-five people left LRC in two vans and a number of cars for Natahala Village in Southwest North Carolina. On the way the group experienced some difficulties. One car got lost and reportedly visited three or four states before getting to the village, and one participant received a blow to the eye from her best friend while riding in the van. Aside from these accidents, all had a fun time arriving.

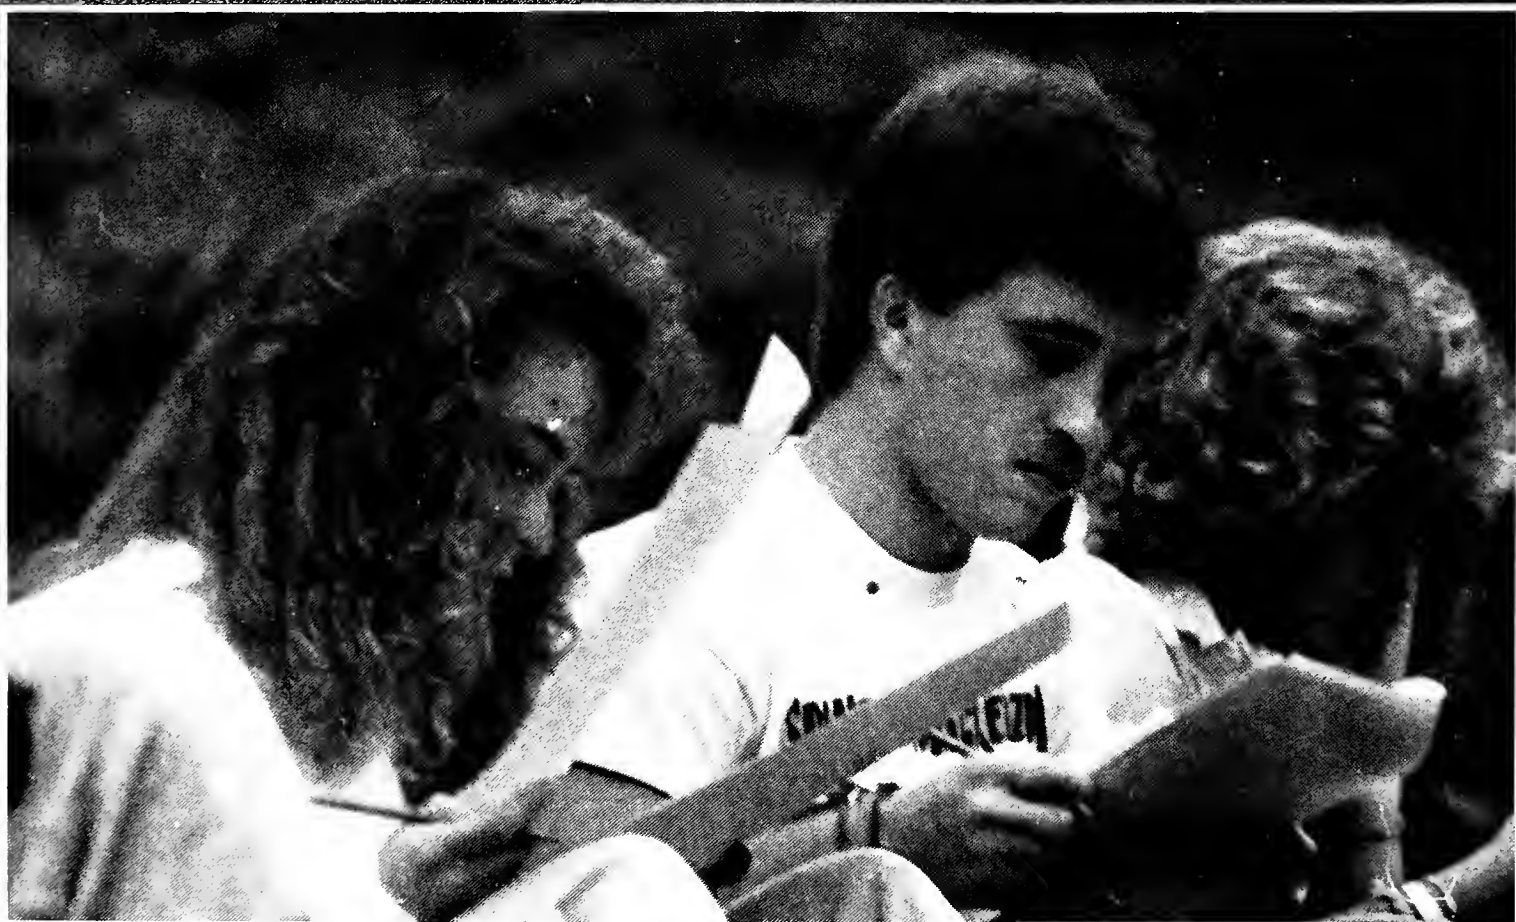

After getting settled in cabins, the participants ate and played games to get to know each other better. The next day was the day all had waited for — the voyage down the Natahala River. Armed with life jackets and paddles, they were broken into groups of five or six and given their vessels. Riding down the river they quickly learned to depend on and trust each other. Following the directions of the captain, the participants navigated rough water and scary falls. They took a break around lunchtime for a quick picnic and also sent one of the group ahead to scout out the rough water. The biggest fall near the end of the run was the ultimate challenge. Happily, all survived it, though some went down backwards or sideways.

Exhausted, they all returned to the cabins for showers and a quick nap. That night they came together once again for discussions and bonding activities. Sunday morning, the girls sang the traditional "I want to linger" song to the guys, and all went off to pack. After the weeks spent in Hickory, they still feel that special bond developed in the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Homecoming

During Homecoming 1987, L-R was jazzing it up in the true spirit of New Orleans Mardi Gras. The celebration lasted for an entire week before the Homecoming game between Lenoir-Rhyne and Newberry College on November 14.

The Program Board kept the students busy with many entertaining activities during the week. Mr. LRC was held again this year to pick the most "talented" and "beautiful" man on campus who would be represented on a float in the parade on Saturday morning. Innovation performed for the campus in the auditorium. Mr. Hazeltine, Director of Food Services, held an outdoor barbeque in the quad in celebration of Homecoming.

Early on the day of Homecoming, the annual Homecoming parade made its way from Hickory High to L-R and circled the campus. There were many colorful floats this year representing the boisterous crowds and elaborate costumes that are found on Bourbon Street during Mardi Gras. This year's winner was Theta Chi Fraternity. Their float was a typical bar scene on Bourbon Street. Delta Zeta captured second place and Kappa Delta won third.

The Homecoming Queen this year was Keri Von Dohlen, representing Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity. Reigning queen, Mary Moose, crowned her during the half-time activities. Heidi Ernst, representing Kappa Delta Sorority, and Gina Mayes, representing Delta Zeta Sorority, won first and second runners-up.

Convocations And Forums

Lenoir-Rhyne requires six convocation credits per student each year. In addition, forums are held each Monday morning at 10 am. Speakers are featured who come from all different backgrounds and who address the campus and a wide range of issues. Past speakers have been economists, musicians and war victims. This year guests included such notable figures as Bob Wieland, a Vietnam veteran who lost both legs in Southeast Asia. Wieland spoke on faith and urged the audience to stick to their commitments.

Dr. Courtland Lee, a counseling psychologist at the University of Virginia, talked about his work in cross-cultural counseling. Dr. Lee has written several books and counsels black males on becoming strong individuals in today's society.

George Anastopolo, Professor of Law at Loyola University of Chicago, addressed the campus this past Fall. Anastopolo is an expert on the constitution.

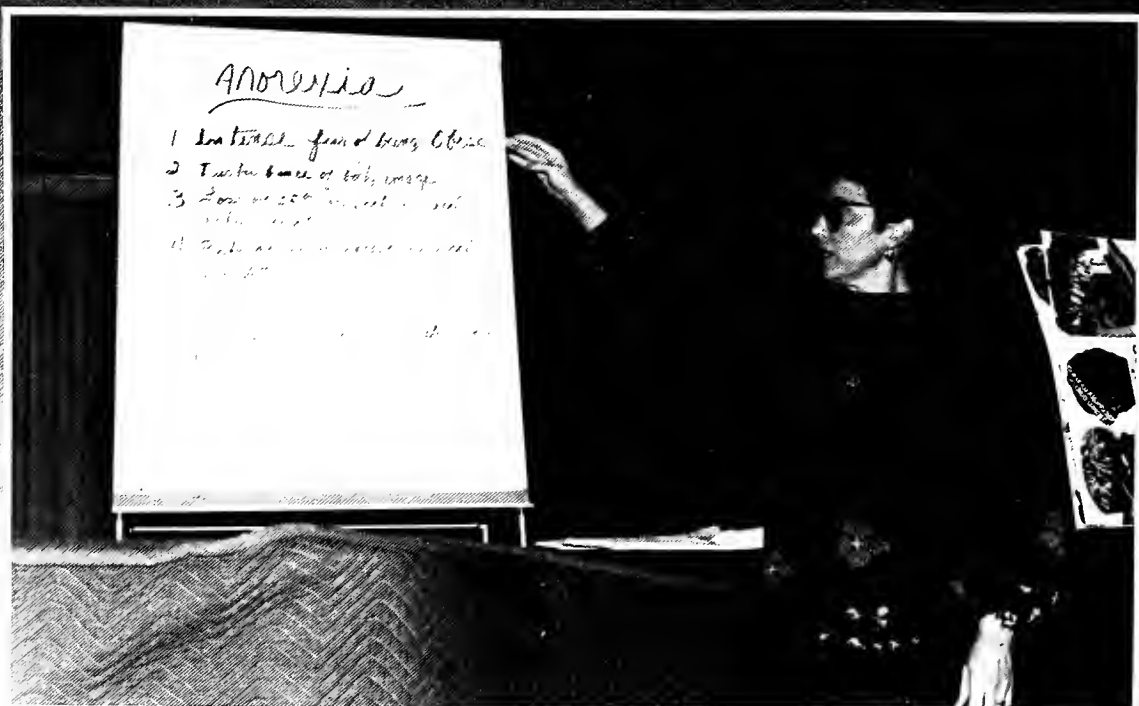

The Radar Institute conducted a forum on eating disorders, a condition affecting millions of Americans. The Institute both informed and warned students about the symptoms and dangers of this disorder.

The variety of topics featured expose Lenoir-Rhyne students to controversial issues and serve to inform them about what's happening throughout the nation and the world.

A four-time world champion in the bench press, Bob Wieland has been featured on several national talk shows. Wieland lost both legs in Vietnam and he spoke to students about his struggles and his triumphs since the war. He urged everyone to have faith and to stick to commitments.

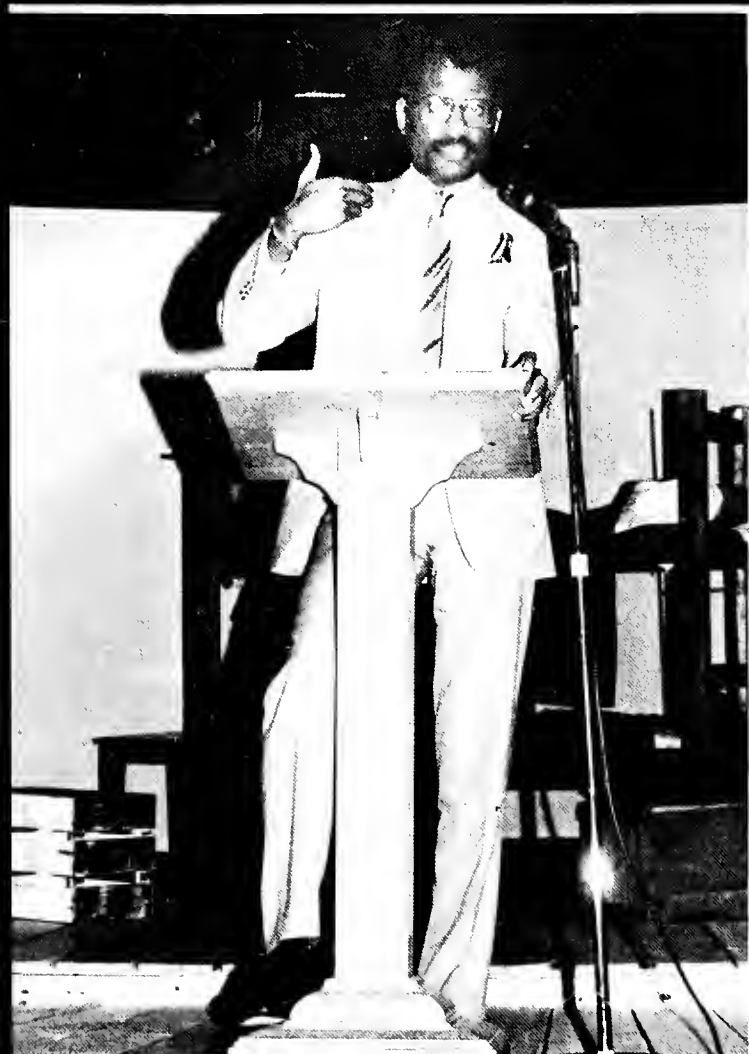

In a forum on eating disorders, students are informed of the warning signs of an eating disorder and encouraged to seek help if they find themselves in that situation.

Forums are a means of informing students and a key to broadening interest in and knowledge of a particular issue.

Dr. Courtland Lee's interest is cross-cultural counseling. His message urges minorities to evaluate their worth and work to become strong individuals in society.

Mr. LRC

Each Fall during Homecoming week, L-R holds its own beauty pageant for Mr. LRC. The male contestants dress as women, and are judged in three categories: Talent, Evening wear, and Interview.

This year Dixie Fox (Ritch Duncan) was crowned Mr. LRC 1987. Ritch performed Samantha Fox's single Touch Me. The winner of the pageant rides in the Homecoming Parade the following Saturday morning.

Capping Ceremony

Two years of hard work pay off for Junior nursing students.

Each Fall the Nursing Department at Lenoir-Rhyne holds its annual capping ceremony at St. Andrews Lutheran Church for the Junior nursing majors. This year fifteen were capped during the ceremony. The following were commended on their achievement: Ginger Biggerstaff, Julie Cline, Elizabeth Decker, Cathy Faw, Greta Franz, Kim Kelly, Jimi Krondon, Susan Leazer, Elizabeth Stone, Susan Taylor, and Shari Wright.

Dr. Beverly L. Malone, Dean of the School of Nursing at N.C. A & T University, was the guest speaker for the evening.

In addition to those who received caps, three Seniors were honored by the Nursing Department. Catherine Duggan, Sonya Honeycutt and Donna Morgan were inducted into the Nursing Honor Society.

Dr. Beverly Malone encourages the student nurses to take advantage of the opportunities available to them.

The Night Thoreau Spent In Jail

In the Playmakers second production of the year, Rob Mercatante, a senior theology/Philosophy major plays the nineteenth century proponent of civil disobedience. This was the first production directed by Dr. Marion Love since last fall and, with it, she has produced a fine piece of art and a statement for individuality. Based on the life of Henry David Thoreau, it is a humorous, moving look at his life and his belief in living a life true to only his own conscience, even if his belief is in opposition to the law. Throughout the play, Thoreau exhorts his fellow citizens to shake off their conformity. "Cast conformity aside," he said and put a stop to the unjust Mexican War. In the end, Thoreau leaves the audience feeling that perhaps we should take a look at the unjust laws in our own society and do some civil disobeying of our own.

The yearbook has been published annually at Lenoir-Rhyne since 1909. The name Hacawa comes from the first two letters in Halls, Campus and Walls. The Hacawa represents the past year in all aspects, capturing students at work, at play and, most of all, capturing the people themselves. A lot of hard work, late nights and, most importantly, dedication go into the production of a yearbook. Developing a theme to work from, sketching layouts, writing and rewriting are a small part of producing the yearbook. Dr. Don Just is the advisor for the Hacawa.

Prologue

Prologue is Lenoir-Rhyne's orientation program for Freshmen. It is a student oriented activity, coordinated by students and the Dean of Students, that introduces the college to the new students at the beginning of each school year. This is the time when many new students meet and lasting friendships are made. Prologue is also a good opportunity for some thirty upper-classmen Prologue Leaders to meet these new students and acquaint them to college life and L-R in their own unique way.

The Lenoir-Rhyne Sign Troupe is a performing group which interprets music with Sign Language. The group was formed in 1978. Sign Troupe entertains a variety of different organizations and clubs, including Lenoir-Rhyne alumni, civic, church, and school groups. They perform an eclectic selection of songs, including Top 40, Broadway, and spiritual. The purposes of Sign Troupe are to promote deaf awareness and to provide fellowship for the hearing and the hearing-impaired students on our campus. Directors for the Sign Troupe are Danette Steelman-Bridges, Becky Brinkley, and Lynne Greene.

"Lean On Me . . ." Shawn and Shannon Roland communicate with Sign Language.

Sign Troupe

The International Club is an organization which promotes interaction among students from different cultural and ethnic backgrounds. The club, relatively new to the campus, gives students the opportunity to learn about lifestyles and customs other than their own. Meetings are very informal and the diverse backgrounds and viewpoints of members make the club unique. Membership is open to anyone.

Fools For Christ

Fools for Christ is a club that helps to lead worship services. This group is based on First Corinthians 4:10, "We are fools for Christ's sake, while you are such sensible Christians." Before a service, each person dresses in a clown-type outfit. Then everyone paints his face white, as a symbol of death. The colors added symbolize the rebirth. From that time on, until the makeup comes off, each person remains mute. This act allows unique and open expression. The entire service is done in mime. A Head Clown leads each service and performs the sermon. The group has several different services which they perform. There are no requirements for membership, just a desire to help spread the word of God in a unique type of service. Fools for Christ often leads worship services at Chapel and in local churches. Their performances are for the "kid in everyone."

The Newman Catholic club is a religious club organized for all Roman Catholic students. Membership is also open to any student, non-Catholic, who is interested in joining. Newman Catholic Club is sponsored by St. Aloysius Church and participates in Right-to-Life activities, Hickory Soup Kitchen and a varsity of other projects. Newman Catholic students are actively involved around campus.

Student North Carolina Association for Educators is an organization for students entering into the field of education. SNCAE has regular meetings during the academic year and often invites speakers to come and speak to members. The purpose of the organization is to give education majors a better understanding of the profession.

The North Carolina Student Legislature is a statewide organization for college students in North Carolina. The North Carolina Student Legislature serves two purposes. First, through actual participation in a model General Assembly, it provides students with a close-up, practical education in the political and legislative processes. Secondly, NCSL affords students a statewide forum for expressing their ideas and opinions on current issues to state and national leaders. NCSL's voice is heard at many levels, and more than 40% of NCSL's legislative ideas have been written into law.

The Inter-Fraternity Senate is the governing body of the social fraternities on campus, with its membership consisting of four representatives from each fraternity and the IFS President. It's major goal is to perpetuate understanding and good fellowship among the L-R fraternities. This consists of organizing the rush program, and jurisdiction over any infractions of the IFS constitution and by-laws. The Inter-Fraternity Senate tries to help out with at least one philanthropic activity each year, usually Special Olympics, and it holds a yearly campus clean-up.

A Record Season

This year marked the first time that the Lenoir-Rhyne volleyball team had participated in a national tournament. Lenoir-Rhyne was one of twenty schools who competed in the NAIA national tournament at the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay.

The Bears finished the season at 17-8. Seeded fourth, they won the Carolina's Conference title by defeating the defending champions High Point, Guilford and Catawba. Barbara Berry was named most valuable player in the Carolina's Conference.

The Bears moved on to the District 26 tournament and defeated Catawba to win the title. Angie Goad was the most valuable player for the District tournament.

Although the team was eliminated in the national playoffs, they had a record season. The Bear volleyball team is to be commended for their hard work and on a great season. Way to go Bears!

Laying Down The Chips: Bargaining For Peace

— Rhodes Woolly

As we all prepared for Christmas, so, too, did the world's two most powerful men prepare to launch their own treatise on peace. Prefaced by uncertainty, but launched by hope, the document would try and articulate a message that all of humanity had been longing to hear.

It would take 169 single-spaced typewritten pages, with 17 articles and three annexes, yet, reduced to its essence, this mass of legalese would be one of the simplest, most radical attempts in history by the leaders of two adversary nations to resolve a point of tension between them. Indeed, 1987 was witness to one of the most important summit meetings ever between the United States and the Soviet Union. A total of 2011 intermediate and short range nuclear warheads are scheduled to be removed from the ever-fearful European continent, contingent, of course, upon Senate approval — which is by no means definite.

The treaty is important because of its radicalism. Never before has the word elimination appeared in the heading of a nuclear arms-control treaty. Never before has the US dismantled nuclear weaponry. Never before has the USSR allowed for on-site verification. But this treaty does just those things, while also calming the fears of many of our European allies and bringing to President Reagan a document that will secure his place in history.

Of course there were concerns. Many conservative Republicans feared that the Treaty would increase the necessity for a strong conventional force (of which NATO does not boast), while still others felt that the US should continue negotiating from a position of absolute strength.

The most outstanding controversy, however, developed not from within the Oval Office, but from within the rectangular kitchen. How dare Raisa Gorbachev decline an invitation to a White House tea so that she could attend a meeting between her husband and US journalists! Nancy was incensed — as she should be. Czarina Raisa is by all means the antithesis of what most Americans think of Soviet women. But not only is she controversial in America, but she is more so in her motherland. Holding a PhD in Philosophy, she has become a model for designer clothing, which strikes many of her comrades as being ostentatious. Fortunately, however, the two first ladies have settled their quarrels, as have their two husbands — at least temporarily.

The fanfare has dissipated somewhat and the flags waving along Pennsylvania Avenue have all been pulled down; yet the spirit of the superpower agreement still lingers in the air.

Perhaps the Advent season was the ideal time for the introduction of this treatise. Perhaps the timing was incidental, but hopefully it will be prophetic. Hopefully a new page in history will be turned to — one that redefines our current condition from militarism to pacifism, from opulence to benevolence, and from fearfulness to trustworthiness. A tall order, but one that was made more possible by last December's summit.

President Reagan talks with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev during arrival ceremonies at the White House. The two superpower leaders held a three-day summit meeting in December and signed a nuclear arms control agreement.

The Scandals

A Campaign Amid Scandal

— Susan Martin

It shocked the nation, and it almost ruined his career. The front-runner for the 1988 democratic presidential nomination, Gary Hart, brought an abrupt halt to his campaign amid charges of adultery. The rumors started when reporters for the Miami Herald claimed that Hart spent a weekend with Donna Rice. Rice, 29, was a part-time actress and was swiftly caught up in the media free-for-all. The press had a field day when it was discovered that Hart and Rice had spent a weekend traveling to Bimini and back aboard the yacht "The Monkey Business." Both claimed that it was a platonic trip; Rice stated that they were "just pals." Through it all, Hart's wife, Lee, stood by her campaigning husband. The scandal was enough to force Hart out of the presidential campaign. He re-entered the race later in the year, surprising much of the country. The whole scandal posed many questions in the world of media as to how involved it should get in the personal lives of politicians.

Ollie For Prez!

Marine Lt. Col. Oliver L. North was a key official in the plan to finance anti-government rebels in Nicaragua with money from arms sales to Iran. In testimony before the Iran-Contra hearings in Washington, North became somewhat of a celebrity.

The testimony heard at the hearings diverted blame away from the President maintaining that he had no part in the affair. Col. North took responsibility for his actions and for the evidence that was shredded by his secretary. The public, in general, saw North as a sort of hero. The slogan "Ollie for Prez!" was coined and Col. North became a household word.

Black Monday

— Mary Crawford

On Monday, October 19, 1987, the stock market saw a 508 point plunge in the Dow Jones industrial average to reach a record of 1738.42. This day historically saw the most stocks traded as the market fell thirty percent.

It is, however, important to realize that "human wealth" skills and training, make up 75 percent of America's total assets. This resource, valued at about 13 trillion dollars by the Commerce Department was not affected at all by the stock market crash. This means that the one trillion dollar loss that was suffered on Black Monday in stocks was only a reduction of human wealth by eight percent and only decreased total wealth by two percent theoretically.

There have been several stimulants called to blame for the astounding crash, the most cited being computer trading. It increased the volume of trading to a level that the market could not support. Another cause is the concern over the dollar's decreasing value.

Many participants in the market were affected by the market collapse. Capital spending has not indicated a notable change, with the exception of high ticket items generally purchased by the upper status-conscious investors. Companies that grew extremely fast in recent years by focusing on the Yuppies market are now seeing a decrease in profits. With sales decreasing of these products, the inventories will culminate along with higher financing costs or mark-downs. Traditional industries that retain a strong demand fared much better than those companies whose demand fluctuates with the economy.

In direct response to the market plunge Federal Chairman, Alan Greenspan, stated "The Federal Reserve, consistent with its responsibilities as the nation's central bank, affirmed today its readiness to support the economic and financial system." Although this stand seems to apologize for increasing the discount rate in September, it served to soothe the worst fears of the troubled market. The Federal Government was extremely aggressive in creating the needed liquidity in the market and is now undertaking the task of bolstering the economy to prevent the collapse of the dollar, or even worse, inflation.

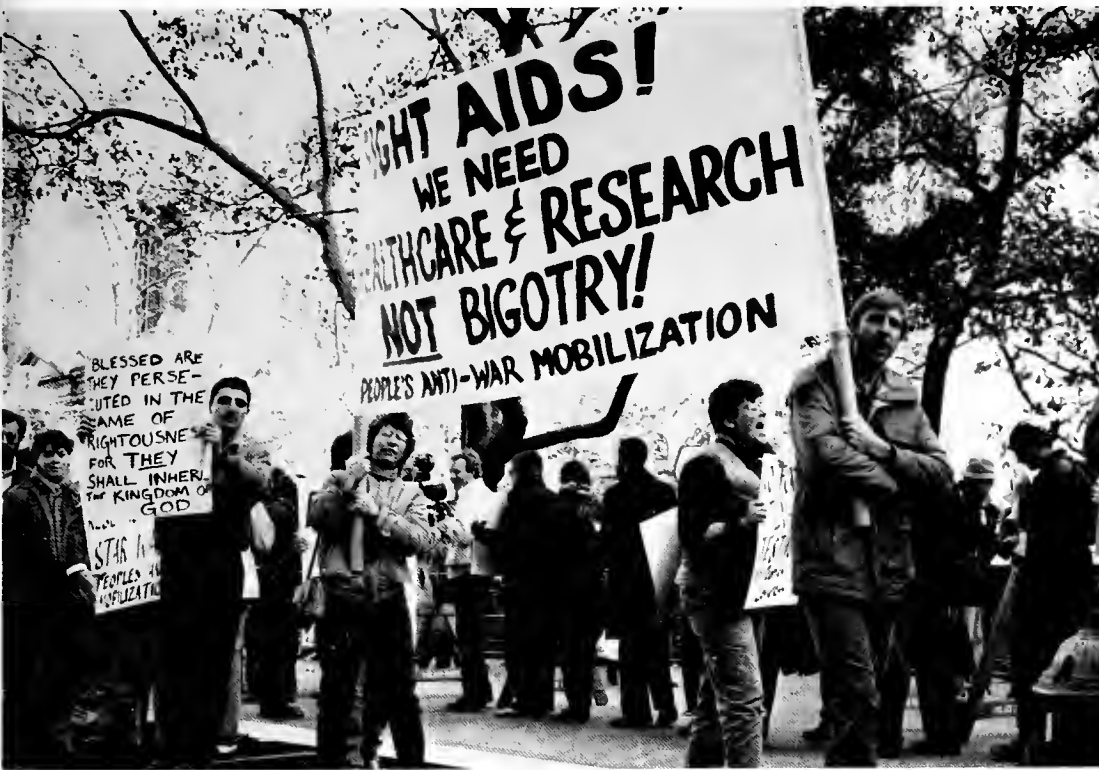

The Dow Jones industrial stock average dropped 508 points, the largest in history, on Monday, October 19. Some called it a "crash", others called it a "meltdown" and others called it "Black Monday." Whatever it was, it stripped $500 billion from the market value of U.S. securities.

Treading Lightly

In an effort to keep the Persian Gulf open to navigation, the United States began in July to escort vessels to protect them from Iran. In September the U.S. Navy blew up an Iranian ship that was caught laying mines in the Gulf. Several mines were confiscated.

The Persian Gulf has become a place of high tensions, especially with the recent mining of its waters by Iran.

"Enemy No. 1"

Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS) has escalated over the past year to become a national, if not global, concern. With no cure as yet in sight, the disease has a 100% fatality rate. What began as a disease of homosexuals and drug addicts has now spread to affect anyone from infants to adults. The virus has yet to be isolated. Concern is growing as the disease spreads rapidly and efforts are being made to contain it.

In the six years since Americans first heard of a mysterious immunity-robbing disease from which no one recovers, AIDS has killed nearly 25,000 Americans, millions of dollars have poured into medical research and President Reagan has proclaimed the plague "Public Health Enemy No. 1."

Paradise Lost

Television evangelists sank to a new low during 1987 with the revelation of Jim Bakker's sexual encounter with Jessica Hahn in a Clearwater hotel room. The incident involving Hahn opened the door to a scandal which would bring about the demise of the PTL ministry. Amidst scandal it was also revealed that Tammy Faye Bakker was undergoing treatment for drug dependency. The Bakkers were forced to give up all of their acquired wealth. A big item that was put on the auction block was the Bakker's doghouse complete with air conditioning and carpet. Some of the Bakker's loyal supporters stood by them but many were forced to re-evaluate the television evangelist and question his purposes. The Jessica Hahn scandal uncovered a skeleton in the Bakker's closet that will take a long time to bury.

Television evangelists Jim and Tammy Faye Bakker said farewell to the PTL ministry in March. Jim Bakker resigned after confessing to a sexual encounter with a young woman. Tammy Bakker bowed out of the broadcasts to undergo treatment for drug dependency.

.... And Tracking Ahead

A Year Ends . . . A Future Begins

As the year recedes into the past we are left with memories of all that it held. We choose the best of those memories and that is how we remember that period of our life. Pictures really are worth a thousand words for they allow us to see the past. Looking back at the past year we see where we began and track the progress we've made, thus the theme of the 1988 Hacawa.

This book began long before the year contained within its pages. It is the product of months of hard work, of writing and rewriting. I appreciate the help of everyone who contributed to this yearbook in anyway. A special thank you goes out to Heidi Ernst and Glynnis George for their help with proofreading and captions, and to my photographers, especially my photography editor Dawn James. Your hard work is appreciated!
